SK

Starting with the 2008 season, SK assembled a new incarnation of Triggers Down, including FearItSelf (formerly of team 5K) and Hysteria (formerly of team Rainbow Warriors). After a sixth-place showing at MLG Toronto with team Carbon, Karma replaced Mackeo. Karma was released from Triggers Down in late 2008, to be replaced by Heinz.

The team has won tournaments at MLG Dallas and MLG Orlando. Their lowest finish of the season was MLG Toronto where they placed sixth at that event. The team is currently ranked second only behind team Str8 Rippin in the 2008 season whom they have been rivals with since the beginning of the season.

The 2008 season started off at the Meadowlands. Triggers Down was able to advance to the third round by defeating Status Quo in the first round and Type Z in the second round. In the third round, Triggers Down lost to Final Boss putting them in the losers bracket. They started off in the losers bracket defeating Believe The Hype. They then went on to beat Fatal Images to go on to play the 9th ranked team in the tournament, Carbon. They beat Carbon setting...
