

LAUREN CONRAD

from laguna beach to the hills everything real and unreal, revealed

The life of Lauren Conrad became known to the entire world. The hit MTV show Laguna Beach: The Real O.C., exposed Conrad and her fellow classmates in their senior year of high school. The reality television show became a direct hit among MTV's teenage audience. Lauren Conrad or LC, as her friends know her, instantly became America's sweetheart.

Aside from being one of the major characters on Laguna Beach, LC was also the narrator of the show. One of the greatest legacies that she left on the show was her revelry with Kristin Cavalier. Both felt strongly for fellow classmate Stephen Colletti.

After graduating From Laguna High

School with a 3.0 GPA, Conrad followed her passion which led her to fashion design at Academy of Art School in San Francisco. However that school didn't last very long. LC transferred after one semester to the Fashion Institute of Design and Merchandising in Los Angeles.

Her talents brought her to the doorstep of Teen Vogue Magazine, where she landed an internship. This is where her new MTV sensation, The Hills picks up. Encountering new and old people, such as her Laguna Beach ex-boyfriend

Jason, LC learns how to manage in the real world. As well as designing she picked up some mentoring skills to help her new roommate Heidi. Although things were shaky at the beginning when Heidi changed paths and dropped out of school, Lauren learned to deal with her new best friend's decisions.

The Hills is scheduled to continue on MTV. But that's not the last of a Conrad viewers will see. Breanna, LC's little sister, has followed Lauren's footsteps and is starring in the third season of Laguna Beach.

The couple that was seeded in Laguna Beach blossomed in The Hills.
